Serials Cataloging Cooperative Training Program Workshop

The CONSER Basic Serials Cataloging Workshop will be offered at the William and Ida Friday Center of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The one and a half day workshop will run from 1:00 PM Friday, March 17 through 5:00 PM Saturday, March 18. This workshop immediately follows the Ninth North Carolina Serials Conference, sponsored by the School of Library and Information Science of North Carolina Central University on March 16 and 17th, also held at the Friday Center.

Under the auspices of the national Cooperative Online Serials Program (CONSER), the Serials Cataloging Cooperative Training Program (SCCTP) provides authoritative training materials and trained serials experts to enable broad-ranging education in the field of serials cataloging. The trainers are Frieda Rosenberg of UNC-Chapel Hill and Tom Ray of the Library of Virginia. This workshop is particularly directed toward new serials catalogers or general catalogers working with various formats without specialized training for handling serials. Instruction in both print and electronic serials cataloging will be included.

This workshop is supported by the Resources and Technical Services Section (RTSS) of the North Carolina Library Association and by a grant from NCLA's Special Projects Grants fund. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill has also helped to make this workshop possible.

The cost for the SCCTP workshop will be $75.00. Registrants for the Basic Serials Cataloging Workshop who are current members of the Resources and Technical Services Section of the North Carolina Library Association and/or registrants for the Ninth North Carolina Serials Conference will receive a $25.00 discount.

Please note that the registration deadline is February 11, 2000 and that registration is limited to 28 participants (on a first-received, first-accepted basis).

To register, please print out, complete, and mail in the registration form found below; include payment.

Your inclusion in the workshop will be confirmed via e-mail.
